then asked what if all those incidents were accidents. I told him that if the bumping, brushing or falling into me were happening too many times, if it happened again, he'd be arrested. He said okay. Later during the class period, I noticed him sitting in the seat to the left of his, inside of his own. He then asked to go to the restroom. When class ended, he later, I noticed my wallet was missing. The next day, Rashawn was absent from school. I called him home & spoke w/ his step-father, who informed me that Rashawn wasn't home yet. This was approximately 9 p.m. I told him about my missing wallet. On Christmas day, I called his home again. His mother informed me that Rashawn had been missing since Tuesday night. Apparently, his step-father had confronted him about my missing wallet & Rashawn ran away. I called again on Friday morning. His mother said Rashawn had returned home, he knew about my wallet & he could tell me where it is. My friend & I picked Rashawn & his mother. We went back to school campus & Rashawn took us to where it was. My driver's license, Old Navy gift card, CVS card & teacher choice receipts were missing. Everything else was intact. Rashawn said Nahken Brown stole the wallet & took the license.
